

Weekly Teaching

March 31, 2017

Passover Seders often accommodate all manner of poetry and song that contribute to the telling of the story of the Exodus, or to reflecting on the journey to, and meaning of, freedom, then and now.

As the text of the Haggadah reminds us, it is not just ancient history that we are re-telling, but the story of our own lives: “In every generation, each individual should feel personally redeemed from Egypt. For the Eternal One redeemed not only our ancestors; we were redeemed with them.”

Below are some links to Passover resources that might enrich your Seder experience:

- On Leaving Egypt — Readings from Magen Tzedek
- The Rabbinical Assembly Pesah Guide
- Don't Be a Slave to Your Seder
- Resources for Families and Educators
- Including Everyone on Pesach
- Ten Tips for A Great Seder
- Modern Songs for Your Seder
- The Matzah Of Unity
- Ransoming the Afikomen
- Afikomen Treasure Hunt
- Additional Readings for the Passover Seder
- The Empty Chair for Seder
- Setting the Seder Table
- Passover Kitchen Countdown
- Searching for Hametz
- Omer Counter
- Counting the Omer and Making Each Day Count
- Lag B'Omer
- Child Nutrition Seder
- Explanatory Letter About Child Nutrition Seder
- Modern Day Slavery (a three-session curriculum for teens on the global issue of modern day slavery and the Passover Connection, excellent for Hebrew High school programs or confirmation classes)
- Modern Day Slavery Seder Starters

Shabbat Shalom,

Rabbi Mitch

rabbimitch@templesholom.com